

James Jones

AMFT # 135667

James is an Associate Marriage and Family Therapist (AMFT # 135667), Certified Addiction Treatment Counselor (CATC – 2215569-IV), and Certified Sexual Addiction Therapist (CSAT). His driving factor in becoming a mental health professional is that it helps people reconnect with their true selves. It is about healing injuries and building trust. It is about crafting healthier relationships, living more fully in the present, and helping people become healthier, stronger, and more empowered. James currently resides in Palm Springs, California, and enjoys the majestic Coachella Valleys beauty and splendor. James practices Vedic meditation and enjoys cooking for friends, the wonder of gardening, and exploring nature while hiking, as well as the endless joy of the reading, film, and story-telling.
