ACSW # 97217

I am an associate clinical social worker. I have experience working with children, families, and adults. I have experience working in residential treatment, private practice, and social services. I specialize in working with adults with issues related to trauma, addiction, depression and anxiety. I have training in biblical counseling and can provide faith based counseling to clients who request it. I take a person-centered, non-judgmental approach to working with all clients. My hope is all clients I have the privilege to work with feel safe and supported as they embark on their journey of healing.
